

Song Li

CTO & Co-founder

ls@newskysecurity.com

Bio

Song Li is Chief Technology Officer (CTO) and Co-founder of NewSky Security, an Internet of Things Security company. Song is an official member of Forbes Technology Council. He is also an invited expert in the W3C connected cars group.

Song has 20 years of experience developing high-performance software systems. Previously, he worked for Intel, Expedia and eBay. Song is also a white hat (ethical) hacker.

Song is Co-founder and former President of Seattle Entrepreneurship Club. Song holds an M.S. in Computer Science from University of Washington and B.S. in Computer Science from Shanghai Jiao Tong University.

Publications & In the News

- A new front in the cybersecurity war: The 'internet of things'. (Trustee)
- Your Device And Your Power, My Bitcoin (Part I). (Forbes)
- IoT Security And Reducing Business Interruption. (Forbes)
- 8 IoT security trends to look out for in 2018. (Internet of Things Institute)
- Smart Wars: Attacking Smart Locks with a Smart Phone. (CanSecWest Vancouver 2018)
- ZebrAttack: Data Breach via Android OS and App Vulnerabilities. (AVAR 2014)

Talks

- Your Device and Your Power, My Bitcoin. (International Conference on Blockchain 2018)
- Cryptocurrency Attacks and this Emerging Threat Landscape. (Cloud Security Alliance)
- Connected Cars and the Future of Transportation. (China Innovation Connection)
- Botnet storms, Meltdown and Spectre - the new IOT security threats in 2018. (IoT Hub)

Common Vulnerabilities and Exposures Discoveries

- CVE-2016-10115
- CVE-2016-10116