Scott Wu
CEO & Co-founder

scottwu@newskysecurity.com

Bio

Scott Wu is Chief Executive Officer (CEO) and Co-founder of NewSky Security, an Internet of Things Security company. Since 2003, Scott has led many behavioral detection initiatives in cybersecurity.

Scott held engineering, research and management roles at Symantec, Microsoft and McAfee. He shipped flagship products, such as Norton, Windows Defender and McAfee Total Protection, with over 1.5 billions users.

Scott is a board director of the Cloud Security Alliance Seattle Chapter. Scott holds an EMBA from University of Texas at Austin, and M.S. in Electrical Engineering from University of Houston.

Publications & In the News

- ZebrAttack: Data Breach via Android OS and App Vulnerabilities. (AVAR 2014)

- Malware Attack Offers Reminder of North Korea's Cyberwarfare Capability. (The Wall Street Journal)

- NewSky Security looks to disrupt hackers before nefarious plots are hatched. (GeekWire)

Patent

- US8341744B1: Real-time behavioral blocking of overlay-type identity stealers.

Common Vulnerabilities and Exposures Discoveries

- CVE-2016-10115

- CVE-2016-10116